REFLECTION QUESTIONS

Respond to the following questions in a 2- to 3-page essay format and submit to your professor for grading.

1. What might have been a better, more emotionally mature manner for Chef Carl Casper to handle the pressure of the restaurant's controlling owner and highly-critical food critic's visit?
2. Outline the steps Carl had to take to get his new food truck in working order and up to code. What steps might the film have over-simplified or be missing if you were to do the same in real life?
3. Imagine you are a social media marketing consultant. How might you coach young Percy to help him grow his father's food truck business? What is he already doing right? What can he improve?
4. Explain how this film may have inspired or deterred you from becoming an entrepreneur yourself. What are the pros and cons of working for oneself? Is it right for you? Why or why not?
